So, the initial question is whether "We Don't Die of Love" is Stephen May's best novel yet? I believe that it might be, having read all five of his novels thus far. I thoroughly enjoyed it and somewhat raced through it. The writing has the propulsion to do that to you. This is another engaging first-person narrative, which seems to have become May's writing style of choice. However ...

We Don't Die of Love by Stephen May - Goodreads
But love don't die No matter where we go Or even if we don't And even if they try They'll never take my body from your side Love don't die She can break it up She can burn it down You can box it in Bury it in the ground You can close it off And turn it away Try to keep it down. Six feet in the ground But love don't die No matter where we go Or ...
