They don't have an identity of their own anymore." "It used to be that maybe there was a kid who lived in X neighborhood and was some sort of character which made that neighborhood unique and that was very cool and if you went to different neighborhoods there were different characters that gave the scene some local flavor.

I just DON'T WANT to be lesbian or bi. I have no problems with them, but I don't want it to be part of my life. I'm terrified I'll have to acknowledge it - my family's loving but straight-laced and wouldn't accept it, for one thing, and it's just not the way I planned my life to run. I don't know how to explain it without sounding bigoted, but ...

The very thing I don't like is, the FL, whose role which should be a supporting character, actually described as refined beauty and dignified, more than the actual heroine of the novel, a.k.a FL's cousin. And this description was written in almost every chapter more than once. It feels like the author worshipped FL beauty
