Osho describes the difference between consciousness, witnessing and awareness: the essential three step progression to the Divine. There is much difference between awareness and witnessing. Witnessing is still an act; you are doing it, the ego is there. So the phenomenon of witnessing is divided between the subject and the object.

The Three Steps: Consciousness, Witnessing and Awareness---

Three Steps of Awareness – Osho. There are three steps of awareness. First, become aware of your body – walking, chopping wood or carrying water from the well. Be watchful; be alert, aware, conscious. Don ’ t go on doing things like a zombie, like a somnambulist, a sleepwalker.

OSHO: Responsibility Comes with Awareness–YouTube

Awareness is total -- total subjectivity and total objectivity as a single phenomenon -- while in witnessing a duality exists between subject and object. Awareness is non-doing; witnessing implies a doer. But through witnessing awareness is possible, because witnessing means that it is a conscious act; it is an act, but conscious.

Choiceless Awareness – OSHO Sammasati

Osho responds to the question of whether maturing in an on-going process and of whether awareness and maturing are connected. Yes, maturation is an on-going process. There is no limit to it – not even the sky is the limit. Your consciousness is far bigger than the whole universe. It is infinitely infinite.

Awareness and Maturation – OSHO Sammasati

Witnessing is a relationship between subject and object. Awareness is absolutely devoid of any subjectivity or objectivity. There is no one who is witnessing in awareness; there is no one who is being witnessed. Awareness is a total act, integrated; the subject and the object are not related in it; they are dissolved.

Oxygen and Awareness by Osho. Only telling you to be alert will not make you meditative; it will not make any difference. So I create devices, I create situations, in which you cannot help but be alert, situations in which dreaminess is impossible. Dreaminess becomes more possible if there is more carbon dioxide around you; you will be dreamy.
