Why the Universe Is Not ...
If you change one of the constants even by a tiny bit, the world will look very very different - it will generally have no suns, no chemistry, and - therefore - no life. This is known as "fine tuning". The Fine Tuning Argument argues that fine tuning indicates that the universe is designed to support life.

Fallacy of Fine Tuning | Open Parachute
Essentially, the fine tuning argument is an example of an argument from incredulity. It also emphasizes traditionally religious themes such as Earth's perceived special status as the centerpiece of God 's creation.

Argument from fine tuning - RationalWiki

Fallacy mentioned (but did not rely on) the no-brainer solution to the fine-tuning problem that is regarded as the most plausible by most physicists and cosmologists: Our universe is just one of an unlimited number of individual, uncreated universes collectively called the multiverse that extend for an unlimited distance in all directions and for an unlimited time in the past and future.

Fallacies of Fine-Tuning |
Closer to Truth

The last refuge of natural theology is the deduction called the fine tuning argument based on the observed values of certain physical constants. It is alleged that these constants have so little room for change before life becomes impossible that they must have been set (fine tuned) by God when s/he created the universe in order for life (specifically human life) to come to pass.

So, in this case the fine-tuning fallacy has relied on the unwarranted assumption that the value of only one parameter is varied at a time in the calculations,. In reality this is unlikely.
